mike,

I really liked that one, saw it on the other forum. have you tried it in the east branch perk. ?

Thanks Sandfly, I'm glad you like it. I don't fish the perk much, and haven't tried this pattern there. I did have some success on Valley Creek with it, and considering my usual luck on Valley I thought it was promising although I don't think I have seen a little black stone there.

I'll be tying it at Lancaster next week and will try and put together a SBS after that if anyone is interested in the pattern.

Mike.
