As stated in Mr Murphy's original query regarding feedback. The swap forum was provided for site members to share, swap and trade used fishing gear. It is assumed each and every experience is reliable and efficient because of the nature of this community.

Any effort toward it beyond supplying the format has no benefit to the site or to those using it. If you want to hug each other over a patch of deer hair, do it via PM. It is a waste of band width.

Its a sand box with no admission fee and no warranties implied. Enter at your own risk.
