That cliff box looks like it'd work. I have a leader wallet (felt pages) that I coil up my droppers and place in there. Really only to save that 9" piece of tippet I guess...anyway, I rarely go back to it to pick a dropper. and it has since become the place where flies go to die. After it fills up I usually end up untangling the mess and throwing all the tippet away and put the flies back in my box.

Silly really.
