What do you mean "way to different"? If you go with a 9 or 10wt you can fish for Muskies, Salmon, as well as for salt water action. actually you can use the 5wt or 6wt for any type of fishing-what you have to do is understand what the rod is capable of and learn how to use it to fight any size fish you hook up with.

However judging by what you wrote - you need to settle down and relax. Don't purchase anything else unless you know your going to use the equipment often enough to warrant the purchase. Now if you just want to waste your money you can put it in an envelope and mail it to me!!
