I want to be a better nymph fishermen. I think I know what I'm doing, but always find myself watching other fisherman around me catch more fish than I do.

I use 9ft 4X leaders with 5X tippet. I fish double nymphs rigs and usually add a BB size spit 12" above the top nymph. I set my strike indicator about 1 and half times the depth of the water. I use all the nymphs the local fly shop recommends. I mend the line to avoid drag.

I don't know what else to try. Anyone have any suggestions?
