
Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Nymphing

Re: Nymphing

Author: : afishinado

Date: : 2013/2/26 8:48:31

URL:

Quote:

PennKev wrote:

Hmmm, he's struggling to catch fish with what amounts to pretty much the universal method of indicator nymphing sooooo.....

.....LETS THROW CZECH NYMPHING AT HIM!!!!!!!!!!!!

(sarcasm)

He's on the right track with what he knows about rigging. It's likely he just needs someone to help him read the water and make sure he's mending correctly and making the proper adjustments to weight and indicator positioning. That's all. if you can't fish an indicator rig succesfully, Czech, or Polish, or Mexican nymphing isn't going to be much better.

Agree with PK. Learn and practice, and begin to master one technique. Indy nymphing is a good place to start. Sounds like your rig is good. Keep at it ...practice ...experiment...practice ...mess around ...practice. This is a tough time of year for catchin'.....they will come. Have fun.