If it matters to you, the Guru is made in the USA and Orvis reels are made in Korea.

Also,

If you want to buy spare spools down the road, it may become harder to find one for the Orvis reel as opposed to the Lamson.

Same as if it breaks, Lamson would likely be fixed and Orvis would just refund your money. If you happened to buy extra spools now and your reel breaks, Orvis may only give you a refund for the reel leaving you with useless extra spools.
