

---

Subject: : Fly Fishing Events and Meet-ups

Topic: : Neshannock festivities 3/2/13

Re: Neshannock festivities 3/2/13

Author: : streamerguy

Date: : 2013/2/26 16:53:52

URL:

I'll be there, been going since I was real little. Yeah it's always extremely crowded for the stocking but I still fish it every year (if it's fishable), along with the lunker stocking, and most weekends throughout the rest of the spring. There's been many days when it was less crowded and I still caught more fish than I would on the stocking days, but it's kinda tradition to still fish after the stockings. Don't know why, I hate crowds.

If it's not fishable I'll be eating a LOT of pancakes and spending time in the shop spending all my money, talking, etc. which I'll still do anyways lol.

Here's the link.. <http://www.ncflyshop.com/events-2013-03-02-stocking.stm>

PS- ryguyfi, if you happen to see someone fishing with a big oversized reel on a 6wt it's probably me lol. I really need to catch some fish on the new reel! I've been out with it once on a warmwater river near me but got skunked. In a few weeks I definitely plan on using it for some steelhead.