

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Stone Clinger Nymphs

Re: Stone Clinger Nymphs

Author: : Chooch

Date: : 2013/2/26 22:04:18

URL:

While I like to make my nymphs as realistic as possible, movement will always trump realism. The thing I don't like about the legs in the picture is they are just too stiff. Not only do they not move, but I also do not think they would feel "real" to a trout. Further, I do not like flies with stiff materials because I believe they offer resistance to getting in a trout's mouth. To each his own I guess.