25 years ago, I kept a fishing log book with # of fish, species, flies used, weather, water temps and any noted hatches. I found them about a year ago and read through. One day back in the 80's I had over 100 fish in the ditch at BS! Back then, I fished 250-275 days a year. Now I get 10 days a year. At this point in my fishing life, I stop counting at 1, If I'm out fishing, it's already a good day.

priorities as some would say...just joking, i hear ya with time to get out.

that is cool, i am glad i am not the only person to ever keep a log book.
