thats 20 fish an hour? thats not that hard, when you fish 7-10 holes in the creek with maybe 50 plus fish in each hole I mean these fish have been eating flies for two to three weeks and now you give em flies with hooks haha. but im not after numbers or anything its usually a tradition at the camp who can catch the biggest, it just happens we fish a stream that is not heavily pressured and normally only run into a handful of guys. sorry if you think im exageratting or lying but thats the truth
