I figured I should probably say hello. I've read the posts on the site for a while now. I'm not always a big poster on these type boards but I do enjoy reading them and sometimes getting involved in the conversations. I live in Montgomery county and fish for anything that I can. I enjoy tying as well as tossing the flies. I'm relatively new to the tying scene though but I think I have it bad. :) I have been fly fishing for some time now, although I do mix in some conventional gear every now and again as well.
