The best fishing, number wise, I have ever had was one summer a number of years ago. In the course of a little over a month, fishing a few hours 3-4 nights/week, I landed roughly 300+ fish. Mostly stripers, some walleye, and a few smallies. During that period I also had 3 musky encounters that were not won by me :(, and lost the biggest smallmouth I have ever seen in a river at the net. No these are not embellished number either. I was on fire and knew what to tie on and where to cast it depending on the river level/color, cloud cover, and moon position. It was awesome!
