Well I don't really count my fish, but if you are noticeably catching fish steadily, then its a pretty good day. A for WW? Now back a few years ago you could stand on the wall below a certian Power plant on the Allegheny River and catch sauger after sauger. WE'd drop a Castmaster, a jig, you could have used a fly, whatever, along the wall, lift it back up it would have a fish on it. You could get hundreds, but it was pretty silly after a while. Didn't even used the reel. Just enough line so if you lifted the rod straight up you could grab the lure and release the fish. Hundreds. Honestly.
