I would say it depends on the number of fish in the stream, conditions (weather / time of year), and if one is fishing dries or nymphs or streamers. For me, if I'm fishing dries and I'm having consistant rises to my fly, I'm a happy fisherman even if I'm not landing the fish. I think dry fly fishing is more entertaining than nymphing.

On Spring Creek, I would say slaying them would be 20 every 3-4 hours for example.
