I couldn't give you a figure, but if they included the tails too they could be worth a decent amount. Typically a 6" square can cost about $3-4 in most shops. Bucktail can cost about $6-8 give or take too. It would take me a lifetime to go through a whole hide, but someone who is packing deer hair patterns it could be worth it to get a whole hide. They could die sections to their liking and I'm sure save a few bucks (pun intended) in the process.
