I know Spring Creek pretty well and I have fished with guys who claim they religiously catch 40-50 on it. They have NEVER caught close to that many when I have fished with them and my 15 were actually more than them. I would love to see somebody have a 50 fish day, I am completely self taught in the nymphing game and would love to watch somebody who knows what they are doing pull 40-50 fish out of an area where I struggle to get past 15. I will supply beer afterwards if anybody fishes Spring creek and lets me witness how to be that successful.

Edit: I am not trying to start an argument but the only person I have ever witnessed fish Spring Creek that truly kicked its butt was Frank Nale. I run into him quite a bit and that guy is truly a trout catching machine. That being said, I understand most people don't believe him one bit.

But I want to see someone do it with a fly rod!
