

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Back in March

Re: Back in March

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2013/3/2 5:23:15

URL:

If you're not already aware of it, one difference is the rules - trout season is closed during March so you will have to fish in the special regulation areas (there are some other areas too).

Yes, generally you're dealing with warmer water and usually higher levels. Usually the special reg waters are a lot more crowded with fishermen in March as well. I'll second bog streamers if the water is high. As DFG said, maybe some Blue Winged Olive mayflies. Small stoneflies are sometimes out and about too.