Best day ever was a think an Opening Day weekend in ANF - something like 73 fish. About half were stockers and the reset were wild fish from some of the small freestoners there. Best fly-only day was a fall afternoon on the Donegal - black wooly bugger and I caught 60+. My numbers used to be quasi-accurate, in that they probably had a margin of error of +/- 10%. Last year, I recorded every fish in a fishing app on my phone and I'd say I may have off by 1 fish 😊 My criteria for recording a fish as caught was that I would have been able to take a picture of it with my phone.

I'd like to do a 100 trout day sometime, if I can find enough time and stream distance to fish, and a stream with decent enough numbers in it.
