

---

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Yellow Breeches Nymphing (advice?)

Re: Yellow Breeches Nymphing (advice?)

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2013/3/3 10:32:06

URL:

Quote:

ScottTaylor wrote:

i have not yet fished the run or below the Dam. Are these good targets for Nymphing?

Thanks in advance,

S.T

Yes, they're good spots.

That section was recently stocked and with some warming weather the fish should get more active. Your rod set-up if perfect. Try the following for a nymphing leader:

BUTT: 3' of 30Lb Mono

MID SECTION: 3' of 12-15lb

TIPPET: 2' of 4-6lb

Use a generic nymph with a BB sized split shot about a foot above the fly. Cast your fly upstream and let it drift naturally along the bottom. Breeches is a good stream to learn nymphing techniques.