If you keep the Zap-a-Gap upright and open it will last until you use it up. Keeping the cap on always resulted in a dried up bottle for me. Keeping it upright and open has kept a bottle going for over a year now. I like the Loctite gel super glue for the sculpin skulls, among other things. Get the blue and black container. It stays put where you place it and doesn't soak in as quickly to the materials like Zap-a-Gap. It's also nice for attaching eyes to streamers as it won't run.
