This was really tiny water not far from downtown LA (way less than 90 mins). Next time I'd like to get a little further off the beaten trail. I did wander up to a place called Frenchmen Flats campground where the fishing was supposed to be good, but I didn't see a thing.

One day I'd like to get into some goldens. There's just something about small, pretty fish.

I'm trying to fish everywhere I need to travel for work this year. So to that end, anyone know a good trout stream in Amsterdam??
