To those who expressed an interest in testing this app and especially to those who participated, I say Thank You!

I had originally planned to enlist a second round of testers but I'm please to say, the first round revealed no major issues so I'm going ahead with submitting the app for release.

It may take a week or two for this update to appear on iTunes as there is a significant review process with Apple but it will be available prior to the Early Opener is SE PA. As I think I mentioned before, I like to flesh out my apps in iPhone because they have a much more rigorous review process and that way you get a better app.

I'll be moving on to the Android version and will need some testers there. I'll post a separate Android Testers thread when I'm ready but have already recruited one tester through this thread.

In the next few days, I'll post some screen captures and preliminary feature descriptions on my website's page for this app so you can get a preview of the new design and features if you are interested. I'm very happy with the results.

If you'd like to meet and see the app in action, I'll be demonstrating it at the Newbie Jam, March 16 in Emmaus. Hope to see you there!

Thanks to all!
