I really only had two streams I wanted to fish: Big Spring and Letort. Fished them both, and did Big Spring several times.

I fished far more streams than I ever imagined, though. This is the first year I really "explored", found streams and access on the class A/nat. repo list, went into streams I never heard of, ready to walk a lot of catch few fish. Some trips were well worth it, some were busts, but it was good and I can't wait to do more of it this year.
