

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Hendrickson Hatch

Re: Hendrickson Hatch

Author: : dryflyguy

Date: : 2013/3/6 11:43:59

URL:

Interesting pattern. Is that a red bead head - or did you tie it with red thread, and make a head out of that?.
Anyway - looks pretty nice.

I also love the hendricksons - and take a week vacation in april every year just to (hopefully) fish it. Especially on the delaware river.

It can be pretty tough to time though, Unpredictable weather at that time of year can cause wide swings in emergence times.

Last year, I was fishing them in march. But I also remember some years when they didn't hatch until late april/early may.

But if you do hit it right, it's some fantastic fishing for sure