

Subject: : Fly Fishing Events and Meet-ups

Topic: : Catskills Chaos early May 2013

Re: Catskills Chaos early May 2013

Author: : wbranch

Date: : 2013/3/8 22:50:13

URL:

"Since most of my floating is done by pontoon, toss it over the guardrail and row."

Yep, that is surely an option. I saw a guy once drop his pontoon boat off a bridge because there was no easy way to get it down to the river.

The reason I don't like buddy shuttles is because it really eats into the fishing time. Say we were going to do Buck to Long Eddy; We'd have to drop the boat at Buck, and someone would have to stay with the boat as I never leave it alone for more than a few minutes. Then I'd have to drive down to Long Eddy and someone would obviously have to follow me. At least 1/2 hour down, another 1/2 hour coming back. Too much hassle for my taste.