I'm all for sharing information with others, but you get none from me. You have already done some research on the area and you live 10 miles from there. Get off your butt and find out how the fishing is.

I'm with you bro. In 30+ years I never asked anybody for help. I've struck out on many excursions(40 minute hike in/out to catch nothing, ugh.) but also found some real gems doing the legwork - literally - myself. Trust me the satisfaction of doing the work yourself - trout or no trout - is something you can be proud of. I know your not lazy since you obviously done much of the 'homework' yourself with the maps. Time to get out and do some walking.
