I am aware of that Les. Matter of fact Afish sent me a PM that has completely changed my perspective on steam sharing. I now realize that in some instances there is a better good to be served. I just don't know how you can defend a guy that on a day as gorgeous as yesterday was, deliberately tells a fellow angler to fish a non productive fly. By the way I know his name and for peace and harmony I will not "out" him. Truth be told, with the lack of fish the 4 of us caught we may as well have been fishing stoners 😊
