

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : This weekends ties

Re: This weekends ties

Author: : Phillyfly

Date: : 2013/3/12 10:25:55

URL:

One suggestion I have is to shorten up the tails a little bit on the Frenchie and make sure it stay on top of the hook shank. Pull the fibers to a 90 degree angle before pulling them from the feather so they all line up then tie them in with two loose wraps and adjust the length. I then add two more wraps to secure the them and then add one more under the tail and pull tight so they splay out which makes for a nice looking tail.

All great looking flies and should be very productive.