I have Rio Gold on my main 5 wt outfit. It's a nice line. Casts well, floats well. Can't speak to longevity, just haven't used it for that many hours yet.

The color change thing is a gimmick, though. Even on large streams like Penns, I rarely get into the 2nd color at all. If I do, it's only a few feet. What's the point if the transition sits on your reel all the time?
