

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Fixing up my flies

Re: Fixing up my flies

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2013/3/13 16:55:50

URL:

Do not overheat. Depending on what was used to secure the thread wraps, you can accidentally loosen the wraps and unwind the fly. That said steaming is a good revival technique, just go a little at a time, like maybe 10-15 seconds at most. And do them in small groups so that those which respond promptly can be taken out of the steam earlier.