I picked up some good tips from youtube. Search "European style nymphing techniques". There are some good videos that can help. I agree that if you don't feel your fly bouncing off the bottom you aren't deep enough. I don't cast very far. If my casts are over ten feet they are long. Instead, I make short casts and try to guide/drag my nymph(s) through the run. Finally, I use two flies tied in a tandem style rig. I hope this helps.
