

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : how to

Re: how to

Author: : paparise

Date: : 2013/3/15 7:11:38

URL:

he's being technical in that the tippet is the last part of your leader and you don't tie that to the hook bend you tie that to the eye of the first fly and whatever you do after that is your call. He wants to argue semantics.

Dropper flies are fun and I fish them alot, tie it every way you can and find out what works best for you. I won't be tying my next dropper off of the hook bend because I've never done it the other ways mentioned here. Who know's maybe I'll like the other way(s) better.