It probably defeats the purpose but you'll have to add guard hairs yourself.

I find most of the dubbing mixes too homogenized with respect to color (most insects are not monochromatic) and also texture (most nymphs have gills flaring out) so I'm kinda fussy about my dubbing. I usually mix my own using natural furs, sometimes mixing with synthetics. I come up with some spiky disheveled messes....which I love and most times the fish do too.
