Thanks, Guys.

All the positive feedback and gentle critique from everyone sure helps with both the fishing and tying aspects of this sport.

PS - When we headed to the LL after lunch today, I gave my friend Pat one of the mini-buggers I tied to use, and dang if he didn't get into a couple of fish. He hasn't fly-fished in a while and the look on his face was priceless!

He also gave me what I think will be great signature line - When I saw his line pause, I asked him if he had a strike. At first he said he was just hung on the bottom, then turned back and said:

"Wait, that rock is moving!"
