Welcome to the forum. In terms of buying gear, your best bet would be to start out with a combo set up.

Have you budgeted a $ amount?

A 9' 5wt rod is probably the best set up to start.

To get an idea of prices, here's a link to Cabela's fly fishing combos which include rod, reel, line and backing.

I'm guessing you will need help in learning how to use a fly rod in addition to other aspects of the sport.

I'm sure other members of the forum will suggest what to read and what videos to watch. Depending on finances, you may want to consider getting a lesson or connecting with a nearby experienced fly fisherman.
