So "Risen"

You are an American citizen

But your company is 100% Asian imports

Designed and produced by people who have no clue about fly fishing

Slum,

I don't believe Risen has implied anywhere that their products are made in the USA. In fact, he has been completely straightforward that (for now) his merchandise is foreign made. You certainly have the option to purchase other products that meet your personal standard.....but your links above aren't any revelation.
