Cons:

Lacks decent amount of larger fish.

Mosquitos are in fact overbearing at times.

Clogged with log jams now that ofcourse, the fish migrate to.

Hatches are minimal.

Snags are optimal.

Pros:

Like stepping into a mountain stream, 20 mins from Harrisburg.

Nice amount of wild brownies.

A terrestrial fishermans top tier stream.

Native brookies in its very tiny tribs.

Best fishing is out of regs area.

Thats what I can come up with off the top of my head. No, its not for everyone, but I love the place. From the moss on the rocks, to the fog in the air, and especially the natural air conditioning in the summer.

I call it my home water and I'm glad for it.

Kray, I always thought it sucked that its just not your cup of tea being how its walking distance from your front door.

Crep, cant believe I never saw that link. Thank you.
