OH..... That was the Sage RPL+ (I think). You cast 4 or 5 rods that day and I can't remember what order you tried them in. I was thrown off by your avatar. Jeff should have an 8' 4wt like this one. He loves that for smaller streams fishing.

Just looked up one of those RPL+ on ebay. They are going for $275 to $340. Never would have guess that.

I've got a sweet Sage graphite III with Bob Clouser's name and date on it. I believe it was one that Sage made for him when he was sponsored by Sage. I called them once to ask about the rod and they asked if I could send it to them for review....NOPE. I'm sure they would have kept it. I haven't used that rod in years but won't sell it since he learned me how to fly fish. Doesn't hurt that he's in the hall of fame either.
