

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Wading socks

Re: Wading socks

Author: : jrmyln

Date: : 2013/3/20 11:24:59

URL:

For wet wading, I have always used the Simms neoprene wading socks (with built in gravel guards) that fold over and have the clip to attach to the laces. I have used socks, including wool/poly wet wading socks, but the neos are a lot better. I have type 2 diabetes and although I currently don't have any issues with my feet, with the neos, I am able to fish all day without any issues.
I think they're only $30 and if not, there are other makers.