I am not sticking up for dicks. I really do not care for the store, but when I worked for them during a break from college, I sold lots of field and stream waders and not one of them had a 1 year warranty. They all came with a 90 day in store replacement program, and after that there is no replacement. First you said you bought a 1 year warranty, then you said it came with it. Which was it? Like squaretail said, no wader that someone pays 120 for will come with a warranty(other than llbean).
