I would bet the BVK reel has a lifetime warranty. I have dealt with TFO for many years and haven't seen a machined reel from them that doesn't carry a lifetime warranty.

The one thing that would discourage me from buying this reel, besides the fact that is not made in the USA, is that it doesn't differ from any other reel coming from China or Korea. I also doubt that you will be able to get it repaired in 10 years like you would if you bought a Ross or Lamson. TFO would probably just send you the closest current model.
