I guess these tiny visual indicators (the tippet itself, the tippet knot with a small glob of strike putty) work in spots that are different from where I would usually try to fish using them. I guess that's a clue right there 😊

I have a hard enough time seeing a size 16 dry amidst the foam bubbles and such at 25' distance.... can't imagine doing a midge.

But hanging a midge off a para adams will work.
