Anybody know a good source for an inexpensive net replacment? I have a perfectly good net, but it has a knotted nylon bag, which I don't really like. It's got a 56" circumference, I'm having trouble finding a replacement that's large enough. I'm thinking I should be able to find a nylon mesh bag for less than $20, but I can't seem to.

I'm planning to get into some carp on the fly this summer, and would also like to use it while fishing from a bass boat, so having a decent catch-and-release net would be great. Just dont' want to dish out the full price of another net.
