Thanks for the advice! I had my decision made for me...I came across a brand new pair of Simms G4 Guide Boots for $150 in my size. I can't wait to try them. I'll stud the soles and these should last the rest of my lifetime! 😊

That's a shame that you think they would last a lifetime. Don't fish much huh? I went thru a pair of Simms "Guide" boots in four years. They were really trashed. I just bought a new pair and figure they will last about the same. If you fish much they will wear out. Have fun and get out there and wear them out! BTW those G4's are a top quality boot and a great choice. Tight lines.
