

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : favorite fishing waters

Re: favorite fishing waters

Author: : streamerguy

Date: : 2013/3/20 21:49:44

URL:

I don't really have a single favorite, they're all unique in their own way. It's like picking your favorite kid!!lol
Here's some that I guess I consider favorites, mainly because I fish them all somewhat often.

Smallmouth Bass- Shenango River and French Creek. Along with the Allegheny, and some Ohio streams including the Erie tribs.

Stocked trout- I like Oil, Neshannock, and a bunch of other streams. I would have to say Neshannock is my favorite, but that's only because I cut my fly fishing teeth on that stream and it's not too far from home. A stockie is a stockie wherever you go imo.

Steelhead- I learned how to steelhead fish on Conneaut, and even though it can be tough I consider it one of my favorites. I like Rocky River too, pretty much all public access. Pretty scenic and has quite a bit of wildlife for being so close to the city.

Wild trout- Prefer not to tell ;) I mainly fish NW PA streams, but really want to get out and fish more in central PA.