I just bought the terra vice and think it is decent for the money. It is made in India and I think is discontinued. it is a knock off Regal. I just had a member of another forum donate a ton of material and tools to me. He had bought an estate sale and would not use it. He had no clue what any of it was and sent it to me. I picked up one thing and there was a Regal Vice. I have wanted one of these for ever. The guy will not let me pay him back in anyway. I am pumped to try all of the new stuff.

my offer still stands to send you a care package to get you started.

I think i will just use the Terra as a travling vice.
