I was just looking at the Cabela's website, and they have some amazingly cheap rods, reels, and rod/reel combos on sale right now!

I'm not one to put down a ton of money on luxury gear, so I really like the Wind River combo ($89)- really resonably priced, and looks functional.

Also possibly looking at the three forks rod with a prestige plus reel that they have on sale right now. That reel is selling for $25 right now, which is nuts!

Anybody have experience with any of these products? The reviews all look good, but who knows.
