DC, they look really nice. What did you use for the tail? Can't tell from the pic. I don't put tails on my crayfish. For me I find they can be hard to tie on with out getting them caught in the leader. I have also found depending on what tail material is it can make the fly twist while fishing. I also don't think the fish care. IMO. I am sure they will catch fish. Trout like crayfish as well.
