

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Crayfish Flies

Re: Crayfish Flies

Author: : Maurice

Date: : 2013/3/24 22:09:40

URL:

Yeah John carp eat them too... When stalking the smallies on your local creeks look for "mudders" (plumes of cloudy water in a clear stream) circle around, get upstream and plop it into the run above the fish and let it settle and wait for the carp to get into the area and then twitch it. They will eat that pattern. Just make sure you are tippet ready for the first run.